

Instructional Negotiations Committee Application

Do You Want To Influence Your Profession and Working Conditions?

As a member of the Instructional Negotiations Committee:

- You will influence decisions that directly affect your contract and fully participate in the collective bargaining process.
- You will receive mileage for travel.

The Instructional Negotiations Committee will meet often at the USEP office through the beginning of the next school year. With these difficult financial times continuing, this may be the most important contribution you can make to the Union and your working conditions. Most meetings are conducted during the regular business day. USEP will provide refreshments at each meeting. The final committee will be selected from those applying.
